

TAAL Distributed Information Technologies Inc.

Symbol: TAAL

Market Cap: 166.6M

Sector: Technology

Purpose: Raise Awareness

MISSION Accelerate the adoption of BitcoinSV blockchain through transaction processing, data indexing and storage for enterprise clients.

VISION Disrupt how people, enterprises and things transact with each other.

TAAL is a pureplay on the enterprise adoption of the growing global Bitcoin SV (BSV) blockchain network. We are the first and only publicly traded company that will own, operate, and manage its own blockchain infrastructure and develop value-added products and services for enterprise clients utilizing the BSV blockchain. TAAL supports the only scalable and secure blockchain (BitcoinSV) that is the foundation for enterprise-level data requirements.

Investor Bullet Points

- The only publicly traded BitcoinSV company that is building blockchain transaction processing solutions for enterprise clients and the world.
- TAAL has assembled a group of blockchain industry-leading team members including Calvin Ayre and Dr. Craig S. Wright. TAAL brings the infrastructure, assets, people, and processing power to enable the vast power of BitcoinSV.
- Strategic partnership, and insider cross ownership with nChain Technologies, the largest holder of Bitcoin intellectual property in the world, establishes the drive to wider adoption and application of blockchain technology beyond financial transactions.
- TAAL has a clear first mover advantage. TAAL is building transaction processing power on massive scale. TAAL is obsessed with delivering value-added services to support and enable enterprises building on the BSV blockchain.
